

The Avtex AK68TM

Avtex are best known for producing high quality specialist TV's for the mobile leisure market, now however this innovative company has now just launched a new simple but very clever mounting solution for any televisions that carry a standard 100mm VESA mounting option. All the current Avtex TV range including the L216DRS and the L186DRS have this available.

The New AK86TM is a full in-motion lockable mounting bracket and is made of aluminium for sturdy yet light weight construction. The AK86TM has a spring loaded locking catch system to secure the double arms of the bracket in place to stop the bracket and the TV from move around whilst in transit, ideal for any vehicle on the move and perfect for any boat owner!

The double arm and tilt action provide maximum flexibility giving you the opportunity to adjust the viewing angle of your TV to its optimum. The convenient quick release design also allows you to remove your TV in seconds and relocate it.

A further neat little feature is the ability to be use a small pad lock to lock the swivel head of the Avtex AK68TM to the main body of the bracket to give added security to TV.

The Avtex AK68TM also sports a flexible cable management system, so you can keep everything under control and looking tidy. The Avtex AK68TM is suitable for mounting TV's up to 27" in screen size so it's more than capable of accommodating the all the current Avtex TV range Even the L236DRS .Like all Avtex products, the Avtex AK68TM is built to last and as such can be purchased from a number of leisure accessory outlets , www.avtex.co.uk
